

ts
ed by
cuts

d jungle

n Ni
rain

m P24

our students
greatly from
ransition year
w the funding
ent, paid to the n funding this
be abolished.
fer again.

ntation of the People with
ional Needs
to be deferred.
dren with spe-
needs will not
y entitlement
Act is imple-
swill suffer.

ok grant-given
who struggle to
ooks, is to be Without help
udents meant
?

ote, there will
ling to support
ervices. All stu-
with out-dated
hool libraries.

ncertified sick olished. This

teacher is ill for n if it is some-
e as a tummy
ll have to visit
a sick note in ncipal of that le to put in a
r. The teacher
punished for

Using teamwork to and two planks to cross a stream in Carlingford

Aisling O'Flannagain, Clare Faughey and Aoife Connell take a break

Aisling O'Flannagain

What's going to work? Teamwork

A TEAM of transition year students from Rosemont Secondary School for Girls were dropped in at the deep end at a challenge weekend in Carlingford recently. The girls were set a number of tasks that required thought, discipline and, above all, teamwork to complete. In one exercise, they had to get the whole team across a stream using just two planks. The group leveraged their weight at the end of one board so their teammate in front could venture to the end of one plank and lay down a second. The girls had to swing from the rope pictured behind them onto a narrow platform and stay balanced with the eight other members of their team. They had to coach each other through the exercise and balance on the platform together in order to achieve their goal. Other exercises, including rock-climbing, formed part of the team building session for the Transition Years students.

Jet-s junior
at Ros

STUDENTS
ondary Scho
off with a day
The scienc
gave student
to revise Jun
viewing inter
historical art
Science Carolan, and
Janet Dean,
preparing
activities wh
material bei
to prepare 2009 Junior

Laura Derm
Hennessy ar
at the Victo
Museum in I

"Both o
visited we
towards th
riculum," sa
escorted th
The girls
revision at
Albert Mus
and examin
from the Ro
eval and ren

"It was re
third-year s
The jam-pa
ing, she saic
"We had to over there,"
also had so
see some ex
and jeweller

Learning by Moodling online

A SOUTH Dublin school is taking learning to the web after launching their very own Moodle, a customised online

ment had an entire transition year class searching the web for images they needed in order to complete their next